Special Transit Clause for Plant(Q)

1. Duration Clause

Notwithstanding anything contained herein to the contrary, this Insurance (excepting War & S.R.C.C. risks which are subject to the respective Institute Clause) remains in force;

i) during the period of temporary storage, if any, of the goods hereby insured for allocation, distribution or any other purpose(s) in the depot &/or warehouse prior to delivery of the goods to the destined plant site,

ii) during inland transit therefrom to the destined plant site, and

iii) if the Assured so requires, during installation, fitting and adjustment of the goods at the work in the said plant site, provided that this extension period is within 20 days after arrival thereat (in no case shall this Insurance cover loss &/or damage caused by any electrical & mechanical phenomenon or phenomena, or any faulty design, defective material or faulty workmanship), and terminates either;

(1) on final acceptance by the consignee, or

(2) on expiry of 60 days after completion of discharge from the overseas vessel at the final port of discharge,

Whichever shall first occur.

2. Deferred Unpacking Clause

Any loss or damage to the goods hereby insured which cannot be found from the external appearance of the original package shall be reported to this Company's Agents for survey as soon as it is found upon unpacking the package but not later than the period listed in the policy after completion of discharge from the overseas vessel at the final port of discharge.

In no case shall this Company be liable to pay any loss or damage reported to this Company's Agents after expiry of the said period, nor any loss or damage occurring after expiry of the above-mentioned cover.

In case of Non-Delivery of entire package or original outer packing being found broken at the time of the delivery of the goods to the destination, the assured should immediately give notice to this Company's Agents for survey of the contents of the broken packages, as well as taking steps against responsible carriers or bailees in accordance with the "IMPORTANR CLAUSE" incorporated in this Policy.
