

Special Clause for Concealed Damage (F)

Notwithstanding anything to the contrary contained, it is understood and agreed that this insurance is especially extended to cover any concealed damage caused by unintentional and unexpected shock subject to magnitude of such shock exceeding the limit of approval regulated by the manufacturer of subject matter insured.

Deductible for each occurrence shall be applied as the amount listed in the policy schedule.